Note!

1. The people listed under group X are exemt from both the programming assignment and the presentation, as they have previously gotten them approved.

2. If your name is not on this list at all, you are not enrolled in this course. If you believe you should be, please contact the student administration.

3. Everyone who sent me an email, have been put in a group with the people they requested, however, to attain the optimal number of people in a group (3) and to limit the number of groups, requests with only two names have had a third person allocated to the group.
