Code of Conduct

Core values

RITMO is a centre built on the three I's: interdisciplinary, innovative, inspirational.

Inclusivity Statement

Our goal is to create an inclusive and respectful research environment that invites participation from people of all ethnicities, countries of origin, gender identities and expressions, ages, abilities, sexual orientations, physical appearances, body sizes, economic backgrounds, scholarly or professional backgrounds, employment, religions, and other differences.

Code of Conduct

RITMO's code of conduct can be summarized in five dimensions:

Friendliness: we are happy to share our knowledge and expertise with each other

Code of Conduct

Friendliness: we are happy to share our knowledge and expertise with each other

Diversity: we acknowledge and respect that we have colleagues with all sorts of backgrounds

Time: we value and respect people's time

Space: we appreciate the distinction between concentrated workspaces and lively social arenas

Efficiency: we strive for having enough (but not too many) meetings, and with clear agendas

Group work

Is there a need to change:

1) Core values
2) The inclusivity statement
3) Code of conduct

If so, how?

Groups:

- Zoom people in one group
- Counting game for the rest
