

Course evaluation ECON 4624 – autumn 2023

Summary:

The students were overall satisfied with the course, and found the content interesting. The majority of students judges the level of the course as adequate.

What is working:

The content and lectures of the course seem to work very well.

What can be improved:

While the students seems very satisfied with the lecture, several make the suggestion of changing the seminars from a 1.5 hour student presentation of a paper, to 45 minutes of exercises followed by a 45 minutes student presentation.

What can you do to improve the course:

We can re-structure the seminars to be a hybrid of exercises and student paper presentations. While most student reported the level of the course as adequate, the results on the exam reveal that the students could have benefited from some exercises on the seminars in addition to the paper presentation.
