

UiO : Universitetet i Oslo

Anne Lene Østli, Entrepreneurship
Department of Informatics

What is entrepreneurship?

Starting a business

Developing new products or services in existing businesses

Changing existing businesses to a changing reality and new demands

Why care about entrepreneurship?

Skills important to master in a rapidly changing world

Increased globalization & competition

Disruptive technologies

Changes in existing services, the energy market & the industrial structure

Develop something new

Participate in creating new solutions

Create your own workplace

Help solve social and environmental challenges

«In the future, more and more of our candidates will have to develop their own jobs. Their education must support this.»

Ole Petter Ottersen
Former Rector, UiO
