Impact by Knowledge

Together with our clients, we find solutions and create new opportunities, provide financing and project management.

Our Oslo Team

Mark van Dun

Managing Director

Mark's 15 years of expertise lies with grant advice, public-private partnerships, European and national research and education projects. He helps clients by, among other things, developing a sharp organizational and contextual analysis.

Cecile ten Kate

Senior Consultant

Cecile has been active in the field of innovation and financing around the themes of Research, Education and Healthcare for nearly 20 years. She has experience with Horizon Europe, COST, Interreg and national funding programs. She has also managed several European projects.

Corinne Owens

Consultant

Corinne has expertise in business development and research funding management. She has worked with schemes like Erasmus+, including the European Universities Initiative, and a variety of Horizon Europe schemes.

Make a difference through research

Nehem helps educational and research institutions and organisations active in the labour market in tackling societal challenges. Educational innovation, research projects, sustainable employability of employees: these are just a few examples where Nehem is active and which reflect our core business.

We find solutions and create new opportunities, provide financing and project management and taking care of all the necessary requirements thereby maximizing the results to have the largest impact.

Impact by Knowledge is what we call it!

Our Approach

Nehem begins every project by collaborating with you and the principal researcher to identify the required type of support. In this process, we aim to achieve the following:

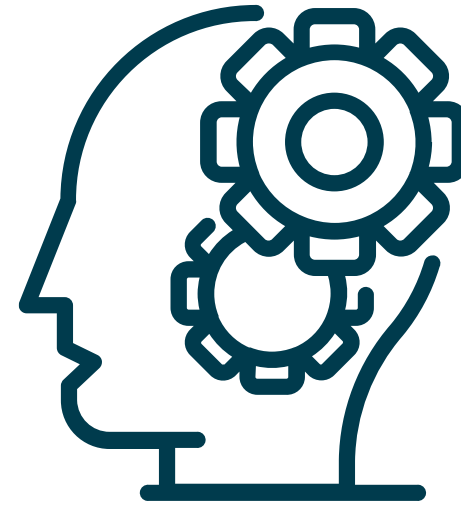

Build on Strengths. Identify and leverage the strengths of your team.

Target Areas for Growth. Pinpoint areas where coaching can be useful.

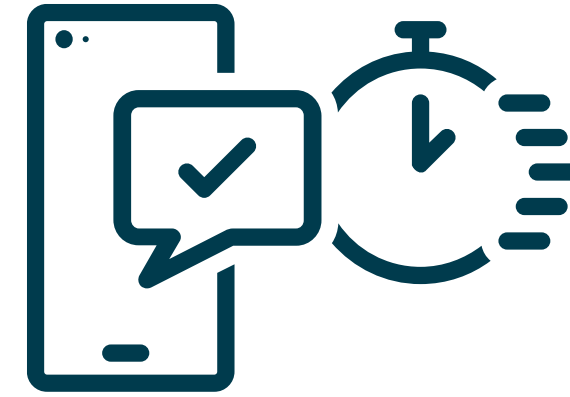

Ensure Best Value for Money. Optimizing the cost-effectiveness of the support provided.

Custom Support. Tailor the support according to the unique needs of the project.

ERC Comprehensive Review

Deliverables of a full review

- Detailed and highly critical assessment of the full proposal text, covering the formal evaluation criteria and informal priorities in as far they are known to Nehem.
- Identification of weaknesses in the proposal and concrete suggestions for improvement.
- Suggestions for editing options in case the proposal exceeds maximum page lengths as stated in the Call for proposal guidelines.
- Clear and concise comments and suggestions in the document to improve proposal structure or text to make the strongest convincing funding case for the project. And an overarching summary of feedback and next steps.
- A final consultation hour with the research to review and discuss feedback, proposing key next steps to bring the proposal forward.

Timing

This service is best implemented when the proposal is at least 85% complete. Nehem can deliver its feedback within 5 days of receipt of the proposal from the researcher, if a delivery date is agreed in advance, and schedule a follow-up consultation upon completion.
