Chapter 1

Introduction

This chapter introduces something. It has been made longer than the other example papers to show that page numbers will appear on the next pages. That's also the reason why a couple of coming paragraphs are filled with plain nonsense.

1.1 Citations

Before the nonsense begins, here are a copule of examples of how to use the different cite commands.

- \citep - normal (Clarke, 2005; Godøy, 2010; Leman, 2008)

- \citet - author, with year in parentheses Clarke (2005); Godøy (2010); Leman (2008)

- \citeyear - only year without parentheses 1975. Best to enclose it in square parentheses like this: (1975).

No indentation after the list...
