

HUMR5140 - Human rights in international and national law

Home examination, postponed exam autumn 2018

Under what circumstances, if any, may states rely on assurances given by states of return about the treatment which the person(s) removed will receive?

Use court cases and current legal scholarship to discuss the use of diplomatic assurances in light of the principle of non-refoulement and the Convention against Torture (CAT) and the European Convention on Human Rights (ECHR). Please remember to justify your arguments.
