

KRIM 2952 / 4952 A Criminology of globalization

Course outline fall 2018

Room 770, 7th floor, Domus Nova

Thursdays 14.15-16.00

Students are strongly encouraged to read beforehand the suggested curriculum for each lecture.

August 23: Course introduction: criminology between the global, the national and the local

by Katja Franko

(Aas 2013, chap. 1 and 9; Agozino, 2009; Ambagtsheer et al, 2013; Burrawoy; 2000; Held and McGrew, 2000; Sassen, 2007; Nelken, 2011)

September 13: Migration control, citizenship and social exclusion

Katja Franko

(Aas, 2013 chap. 4; Aas, 2014; Aas and Gundhus, 2015; Barker, 2018; Bosworth, 2012; Brotherton and L. Barrios, 2009; Carling, J. and Hernandez-Carretero, 2011; Ugelvik, 2012)

September 20: Transnational police cooperation and state sovereignty

Synnøve Ugelvik

(Aas, 2013 chap.5 & 7; Andreas and Nadelmann, 2006; Bowling, 2009)

September 27: Transnational organized crime

Paul Larson

(Aas, 2013, chap. 6; Knepper, 2011; Varese, 2012)

October 11: Globalization, human trafficking and gender

by May-Len Skilbrei

(Skilbrei and Tveit, 2008; Aas 2013 chap. 2)

October 18: The changing role of the state

Katja Franko

(Aas, 2013 chap. 7; Bowling, 2009; Franko, 2017; Passas, 2000)

October 25: Terrorism and the 'war on terror'

Katja Franko

(Aas, 2013 chap. 5; Agnew, 2010; Berntzen and Sandberg, 2014; Lyon, 2014; McCulloch and Pickering, 2009)

November 8: Conclusion: Global criminology, ecological and cosmopolitan justice

Katja Franko

(Aas, 2013 chap.10; Findlay, 2008; Lynch et al, 2013)