

KRIM2957 – Surveillance: Data, technologies, practices

Final Home exam, autumn 2019

Disclosure of exam assignment: November 4 at 1:00 PM

Submission deadline: November 7 at 1:00 PM

Discuss one of the following questions:

Question 1:

What roles do counting, calculating and categorizing play in surveillance practices today? Give examples from different thematic fields in surveillance studies and discuss them in relation to relevant literature.

Question 2:

Laws, legal initiatives and legal principles – how can they regulate surveillance today and what are their limits? Choose and discuss at least three laws, legal initiatives or principles and discuss them in relation to relevant literature.

The question can be answered in English, Norwegian, Danish or Swedish.

General information:

Size: Maximum 2000 words (roughly 5 pages). Front page, contents page (optional) and bibliography are not included. If footnotes are used in the text (at the bottom of each page), they are included in the 2000 word limit. Papers that exceed the 2000 word limit will be disallowed.

Cheating: Any exam at the University of Oslo is being checked for both correct word count and incidents of cheating. Text recognition software will be used to find cases of plagiarism. Failure to cite sources or highlight quotes in any assignments that are handed in is considered cheating. You must cite the source if you obtain data, reasoning and arguments from the literature, syllabus, lecture notes, web pages, other students' papers or your own previously submitted papers. Short or long pieces of text quoted verbatim from other sources must be italicised so that it is obvious that it is a quote.

Submit your exam: The essays shall be handed in electronically in Inspera. Exams at the University of Oslo are anonymous. Instead of your name, write your candidate number found in StudentWeb.
