

Final home exam, autumn 2016

RSOS4950 Torture, Surveillance and Rights

Date of exam: 4 November at 13:00 to 11 November at 13:00

Choose one of the following two topics:

1. Use relevant contributions on your reading list to describe and discuss the moral and legal status of so-called «enhanced interrogation techniques» in the war against terror?

or

Use relevant contributions on your reading list to describe and discuss the moral, political and legal implications of the revelations made by Edward Snowden

The question can be answered in English or Norwegian.

Size: Maximum 4000 words (roughly 10 pages). Front page, contents page (optional) and bibliography are not included. If footnotes are used in the text (at the bottom of each page), they are included in the 4000 word limit.

Cheating: Any exam at the University of Oslo is being checked for both correct word count and incidents of cheating. The text recognition software Ephorus will be used to find cases of plagiarism. Failure to cite sources or highlight quotes in any assignments that are handed in is considered cheating. You must cite the source if you obtain data, reasoning and arguments from the literature, syllabus, lecture notes, web pages, other students' papers or your own previously submitted papers. Short or long pieces of text quoted verbatim from other sources must be italicised so that it is obvious that it is a quote.

Submit your exam: The essays shall be handed in electronically in Inpera. Exams at the University of Oslo are anonymous. Instead of your name, write your four-digit candidate number found in StudentWeb.
