

Declaration when handing in an assignment

This declaration must be handed in together with the assignment. Before handing in the declaration you must familiarise yourself with the rules pertaining to cheating:

<http://www.uio.no/english/studies/admin/examinations/cheating/>

Name	Candidate number
Course	Course code

Have you written this assignment alone or together with someone else? Place an X
<input type="checkbox"/>	I have written the assignment alone.
<input type="checkbox"/>	I have written the assignment in collaboration with others, and I am responsible for the entire assignment together with the other authors.
<input type="checkbox"/>	I have written the assignment in collaboration with others, and I am responsible for parts of it. The parts for which I am responsible are specified in the assignment.

I declare that in the assignment / my parts of the assignment, I:

1. am not reproducing my own past work without stating my work as the source.
2. am not reproducing other people's work without stating the source (for example curriculum literature, academic literature, articles, websites, fellow students' assignments and notes, etc.).
3. have used citations and references in the right way.
4. have stated all the references and sources that I have used in the bibliography.

I am aware that a breach of the rules of citation and referencing is regarded as cheating or attempted cheating.

If you submit your assignment using Fronter, you do not need to provide a signature. If you submit your assignment on paper:

Signature of the student	Date