

Course Evaluation

The Department of Mathematics wishes to continuously evaluate both the form and the content of its courses.

The evaluation takes place during the semester. The lecturer and the students are expected to cooperate on finding a suitable evaluation method.

At the beginning of each semester 1-2 student representatives are elected. They will discuss evaluation methods with the lecturer.

The lecturer and the student representatives:

- are expected to cooperate in deciding how the course evaluation should be carried out (oral or written, with few or many students involved).
- have a common responsibility to ensure that the evaluation is carried through.

The lecturer is responsible for the follow-up of the evaluation.

The student administration at the department, in cooperation with the Student's Committee, can assist in finding good forms of evaluation.

The department wishes you a good and educational semester.
