

The reflection note should be between 1000 and 1500 words, and it should be on a topic that's related to your group presentation. In other words, you can choose to focus on a specific aspect or perspective of your presentation topic (rather than the entire broad topic). Importantly, the reflection note should not be just a summary of the presentation (or a particular study); rather, it should demonstrate your ability for critical reflection, and illustrate your understanding of the relevant phenomena/processes, gaps in current knowledge, and/or methodological limitations. The use of references is recommended where appropriate.

PSY4313 Music Cognition - Marking criteria for reflection note

Grade	Characteristics
A: Excellent	The reflection note demonstrates: <ul style="list-style-type: none">- An excellent grasp and understanding of the phenomena/processes that are relevant to the topic- Excellent judgment and a high degree of independence in ability to reason critically- An excellent ability to identify methodological limitations and important gaps in current knowledge
B: Very good	The reflection note demonstrates: <ul style="list-style-type: none">- A very good grasp and understanding of the phenomena/processes that are relevant to the topic- Sound judgment and a very good degree of independence in ability to reason critically- A very good ability to identify methodological limitations and important gaps in current knowledge
C: Good	The reflection note demonstrates: <ul style="list-style-type: none">- A good grasp and understanding of the phenomena/processes that are relevant to the topic- A reasonable degree of judgment and independence in ability to reason critically- A good ability to identify methodological limitations and important gaps in current knowledge
D: Satisfactory	The reflection note demonstrates: <ul style="list-style-type: none">- A satisfactory grasp and understanding of the phenomena/processes that are relevant to the topic- A limited degree of judgment and independence in ability to reason critically- A moderate ability to identify methodological limitations and important gaps in current knowledge
E: Sufficient	The reflection note demonstrates: <ul style="list-style-type: none">- A sufficient grasp and understanding of the phenomena/processes that are relevant to the topic- A very limited degree of judgment and independence in ability to reason critically- Very limited ability to identify methodological limitations and important gaps in current knowledge
F: Fail	The reflection note demonstrates: <ul style="list-style-type: none">- A lack of understanding of the phenomena/processes that are relevant to the topic- Absence of judgment and independence in ability to reason critically- Inability to identify methodological limitations and important gaps in current knowledge
