

Report 1

As your first paper for this course, I want you to write an "expertise" paper about a real world justice problem.

You choose that problem yourself. Take something you are well familiar with. An example is:

"Is it just to support male applicants to the "professional study program" in psychology at PSI with affirmative action, such that they can be chosen over female applicants who have better grades? Which way of implementing such affirmative action would be just, and to whom?"

In your essay, I want you to

- formulate the problem and who perceives it as just or unjust.
- analyse who are the parties involved in these interactions and relations
- describe how they are relating (or not) to each other, what relational models and justice principles they apply, and whether there is a divergence between their perspectives
- for this analysis, use the literature that we worked with during the course. You can of course add more literature that you find on your own.
- for everything, use APA manuscript format. You can choose between double spaced or single spaced lines. If you need a style guide, I recommend https://owl.purdue.edu/owl/research\_and\_citation/apa\_style/apa\_formatting\_and\_style\_guide/general\_format.html (Lenker til en ekstern side.)Lenker til en ekstern side.
- you should write between 2000 and 5000 words. Abstract extra, between max 150 words
- the first version of your report, which you hand in on Inspira, should be anonymous. I'll let you know instructions how to do that once that is created.
